C. A. BALPH,

LONG ELECTRIC LINES.

Extension of the Southside Suburban Road Into Pittsburg.

MANY IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS.

From Knoxville to the Exposition in Twenty-five Minutes.

CARS TO BE HOISTED BY AN INCLINE

Important matters were decided at a meeting held yesterday afternoon by the directors of the Suburban Rapid Transit Railroad Company. The line of this company extends from the city line, on the Brownsville road, two and a half miles toward Whitehall. It has been in operation for about 11 months, connecting at the city line with the St. Clair Electric Railroad, and from that company has been receiving its motive power. The St. Clair road suspended operations about six weeks ago, which has been the cause of considerable annoyance and delay to the suburban road. The meeting yesterday afternoon was held to decide upon ways and means to avoid any further opportunity for such delay by making arrangements for the extension and independent operation of the suburban road. The board concluded to erect its own power house. A site has been selected on the turnpike, near the second toll gate, in Knoxville. Plans were ordered to be drawn for a brick power house, 50 by 100 feet in size, to cost about $22,000. The intention is to have it completed within sixty days. The system it completed within sixty days. The system now in use is the overhead wire system, with under contact. The company will use either a Ball or Ide engine, with Daft dynamos. It was decided to extend the main line across the river into the city of Pittsburg. This extension will begin at the present terminus at the city line, will run down the hill to South Eighteenth street, thence to Mary street, to South Seventeenth street, to Muriel street and to South Tenth street, where it will strike the tracks of the short line of the Birmingham Passenger Railway Company. By these tracks it is the intention to cross by the Tenth street bridge to Second avenue, Pittsburg. There the line will connect with the proposed Second ave-nue electric railroad, and by a traffic arrangement the passengers of the Southside line will be carried, without change of cars, to the Exposition building at the Point This will make an electric line from five to six miles long, extending from the southern edge of Knoxville borough to the Exposition, but it is the expectation that the trip will be made in 25 minutes. A remarkable innovation in electric railway operation was decided upon at the meeting. By it the company proposes to reduce the drain on the power and to ob-viate the danger of hauling a crowded car up a steep hill by a single wire. Another oop line will be built from the present city line terminus to Barkhamer street, thence to Marengo street, to Pine street, to Fort street, and on that to the top of the Twentysecond street incline. From the base of the cline the line will run along Mary street to Eighteenth street, where it will connect with the other track. Cars will descenthe hill at South Eighteenth street, but will ascend on the freight incline on South Twenty-second street. This will save time and power. As experience has shown, to haul a heavy car up a steep hill is not only a heavy drain on the dynamic power, but is not unattended with danger.

The President of the suburban company is Mr. John Phillips, of the firm of Oliver Bros. & Phillips, and the Secretary Mr. C. RESOLUTIONS ABOUT WM. THAW.

The Society for the Improvement of the Poo and Its Tribute. The Society for the Improvement of the Poor met yesterday afternoon and passed the following resolutions relative to the late

William Thaw: WHEREAS, Our Heavenly Father in His in mite love and unerring wisdom has been pleased to remove from this life our esteemed friend and counselior, William Thaw, we deem it peculiarly fitting that this association pay its peculiarly fitting that this association pay its tribute of gratitude and respect to his memory. Resolved, That in the death of William Thaw we have lost one of the first and most steadfast supporters of this society. In the hand of Providence we owe to him our present growth and prosperity. He gave liberally of his time, thought and money. He was "brother to the poor," trily and deeply interested in all that pertained to suffering humanity, encouraging managers and visitor by the heartness of his counsel and practical sympathy. He regarded money given to reheve distresss as "sanctified money," and has so expressed it. Resolved, That, as an association, we express our heartfelt sympathy with the family in the great loss they have sustained in the death of the husband and father, especially to Mrs. Thaw, who, with her husband, has always been an active and faithful coworker in charities. We sincerely mourn with her in this great affliction, and pray that He who measured out her grief may give her grace and peace with an abiding sense of the living presence of Him who has promised to be a "husband to the widow and a father to the fatherless."

rivers. Of course the rise is not rapid, because very little water is flowing into the rivers from their tributaries. The water mark showed over two feet last evening. The stony islands that have dotted the two rivers for a fortnight have entirely disappeared, and the water is slowly creeping up along the wharves and on the bridge piers. The dam will bring the water up to six feet above the first riffle in the Ohio. For over a week none of the vessels the Monongahela have been able to .come below Lock No. 1. Yesterday morning the wharfboat of the Brownsville line was brought down to its old mooring place below the Smithfield street bridge. The steamers Adam Jacobs and Elizabeth came below the lock to their old docks. It is probable that a number of coal barges will be sent down below Davis Island this morning, but they will be unable to go any further. The water below the dam is much lower than before that work was completed, and a skiff can hardly be floated. the water in the pool attains a depth of six feet it will escape from the dam, but it will be some weeks before the Ohio will be navigable, unless there are heavy rains. Men along the river express regret that Captain Crawford, the wharfmaster, did not take advantage of the period of low water to repair the outlet to the sewer which flows into the river opposite to the foot of Wood street. The outlet has been broken up and the sewage flows out over the wharf, emitting # regularly on the wharf near the water's edge. When the water has risen so that they will be covered, they will be dangerous to vessels coming to the wharf, and may be

River Captains Will Urge the Purcha Locks by Uncle Sam. The delegation of river captains from Pittsburg to the rivermen's convention numbers 26. They had a special car on the Baltimore and Ohio Tuesday night and reached Cincinnati yesterday morning. The convention assembled yesterday afternoon, and will probably hold sessions during the remainder of the week. The Pittsburg delegation will bring before the convention the importance to transportation and commer-cial interests of Government purchase of the locks on the Monongahela river. This subject will be urged strongly, and an effort will be made to secure Congressional action next winter, to the end that the Government may proceed with the work well begun by the condemnation and purchase of lock

SCHAEFFER EXPLAINS

How He Got Behind With Fauds of the Convent Laundry. John Schaeffer, who is charged with embezzling money belonging to the Convent Laundry, denies the allegation. He says that he had an agency for the laundry, and used to receive and deliver packages. He was also empowered to take the money due for laundry work. He says the Convent people used to send a different man every day, and he refused to give them the money. He consequently got behind $21, which resulted in the suit.

BROKEN ON THE WHEEL, Richard Thomas Killed While Attending to His Work. The engineer of Sankey Bros', brick works, on Brownsville avenue, near the head of South Eighteenth street, was killed by being caught in the bend of the driving wheel while putting rosin on it, and was killed almost instantly. His name was

Richard Thomas, 20 years of age, and lived with his uncle on Mission street, near where the accident occurred. The inquest will be held this morning.

A COLD WAVE COMING.

ergeant Stewart Predicts Better Times for Sweltering People. The weather was an absorbing topic yesterday as evidenced by the clothes worn by the general public. The textile fabrics orbed considerable perspiration, and the atmosphere considerable profanity on account of the heat. Upon scaling the heights ecupied by the signal service observer in Schmidt & Friday's building, Sergeant Stewart met the reporter with a cool air and a toby. He said:

"There is a cool wave in the atmosphere which will reach here to-morrow or the day after. The mercury showed 28° in Wyoming Territory to-day, and through the northwest cool areas prevail. To-day is very warm, although not phenomenally so. The highest point reached in Pittaburg was 86° at 1:30 P. M. On August 30 the highest point reached was 89°. In September last year the first four days registered 70°, 74°, 77° and 80°. The lowest last year was ters ber 30, which went down to 390. The highest point reached this year was 93° on July 10. Since the establishment of the signal station in Pittsburg the highest point ever reached in September was 102° in 1881 and the lowest 35° in 1879. The outlook just now is for rainy weather for a few days, and a considerable lowering of the temperature, which will be agreeable news
